TRADEMARK USE AND PRODUCTION GUIDELINES

The Merz trademarks are valuable business assets and these guidelines are intended to protect them. In consideration of Merz permitting you to use the Merz trademarks included in the Licensed Materials, and by using those trademarks, you agree to comply with the guidelines described here. Merz gives you permission to use its trademarks only in connection with your aesthetic medicine practice and not to use these trademarks in any activity which might in any way hurt the reputation of Merz. Should Merz ask you to stop using these marks or to change that use in any way, you agree to comply with that request.

These guidelines and your use of the Merz trademarks and logos do not constitute a partnership, joint venture, or agency relationship between you and Merz. This is the only agreement between you and Merz North America, Inc. concerning the Merz trademarks, and it may not be changed except by a signed written agreement.

If you have any questions or any proposed use that is not covered by these guidelines, please contact the Merz North America, Inc. Legal Department. Merz North America may change these guidelines at any time without prior notice, and may for any reason whatsoever withdraw this permission.

Subject to compliance with the guidelines, you may use the trademarks in the manner authorized by these guidelines.

GENERAL RULES OF PROPER TRADEMARK USAGE

Trademarks are adjectives. A trademark should be used as an adjective immediately preceding the generic noun that described the related product or service.

Trademarks are not nouns and should not be used alone as a noun. The exception is for use as a company name. For example, when used to refer to the company, Merz Aesthetics may be used as a noun and should not be designated with a trademark symbol ® or ™.

A trademark is also not a verb.

Since a trademark is not a noun, neither the possessive form nor the plural form should be used.

Never change the original appearance of any designs and/or logos. It is important to maintain the original font, proportion and/or color of designs and logos. Trademark symbols should always be used with logos.

Ownership of a trademark should be properly attributed and is generally done in two ways. First, a trademark symbol (™, ®, or SM) is employed after the actual trademark. Second, a trademark legend should be placed at the end of a document or at the bottom of a web page or other media display usually following the copyright notice. An exemplary trademark legend is: “BELOTERO BALANCE is a registered trademark of Merz North America, Inc.” Certain assets in this E-Media Kit contain non-Merz trademarks and their trademark legends. Trademark legends for non-Merz trademarks must not be deleted.

The legend must be in a typeface of at least 8 point size.

A trademark symbol should be used for all prominent uses of the trademark, for example, titles, headlines, signage, web site promotions, brochures, marketing materials, press releases, advertising, label, packaging and the like.

A trademark symbol should be used on the first use of the trademark in the text or body copy, even though the symbol may have already been used in the headline or another prominent use.

Trademarks must always be used in a manner that distinguishes them from the rest of the text. After the trademark has appeared in a document using ® or ™, subsequent use of the trademark in the same document does not require use of ® or ™ provided that the trademark is still clearly distinguishable from the surrounding text. This can be achieved by CAPITALIZATION, underlining, using “quotation marks”, boldface type, or italics. These general rules are not applicable to certain FDA-approved drugs and these exceptions will be noted in the specific guidelines for the use of such trademarks.

REQUIRED TRADEMARK LEGEND

The following trademark legends must be displayed on your website if you utilize any of the assets of the BELOTERO BALANCE® E-Media Kit:

BELOTERO BALANCE is a registered trademark of Merz Pharma GmbH & Co. KGaA, Merz Aesthetics and the Merz Aesthetics logo are trademarks of Merz Pharma GmbH & Co. KGaA.
